

New Hema Navigator

Renowned 4WD and Outback mapping company HEMA has just released an updated and upgraded version of its in-vehicle navigation system. They've called it the HN5i.

The HEMA NAVIGATOR HN5i uses the same fast and reliable hardware as its predecessor, but there's been a complete software update. It now uses iGo Primo, a premium street navigation product.

"iGo kept showing us the best of everything they had and we took the lot." said HEMA Managing Director Rob Boegheim. "We simply wanted the best navigation system for our customers."

It is not only much more sophisticated and user-friendly, but also allows for greater personal customisation. Plus it comes with the latest CAMPS Australia Wide Edition 6 sites preloaded.

HEMA is also offering free street updates to buyers for a whole two years: available in regular periodic downloads. This is great value considering updates would normally cost $100 each!

Of course all the latest HEMA 4WD, Touring and Australia TOPO 250K maps are preloaded on a whopping 8GB Micro

SD card, ready for use on the HN5i in both OziExplorer and Memory-Map.

As the market leader in premium on and off-road navigation the HEMA NAVIGATOR HN5i is the perfect companion for your next 4WD or Outback adventure!
